Initial Orientation Courses for Asylum Seekers

You can attend an initial orientation course at your vhs.

The course is free of charge.

The subjects are:

-  Everyday life in Germany
-  Work
-  Shopping
-  Health/Medical care
-  Nursery/school
-  Media use in Germany
-  Local Orientation/
transportation/mobility
-  Manners and social usages in Germany/local features
-  Speaking about yourself and other people/social contacts
-  Living
-  Values and living together

Who can attend the courses?

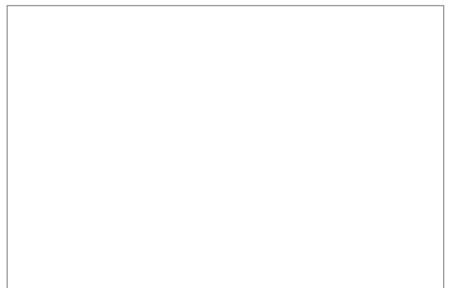

The initial orientation courses are for asylum seekers with uncertain prospects of remaining in the country. If free places are available, other people can take part, provided participation in an integration course is not (yet) possible.

Children and young people, who have to go to school (school-age children), cannot take part in the initial orientation courses.

Who we are?

The Volkshochschule adult education centres are the largest providers of further education in the country.

Come and visit.
 We will be happy to advise you.
